Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 HIPAA Omnibus Notice of Privacy Practices

Effective April 14, 2003 · Revised 2/5/2014

Privacy Officer: Catherine Callinan · ccallinan@emersonhosp.org

This Notice of Privacy Practices describes how medical information about you may be used and disclosed and how you can get access to this information. Please review it carefully.

We reserve the right to change the terms of this Notice, and to make the new Notice provisions effective for all Protected Health Information (PHI) that we maintain. We will post a copy of the current notice in our office. The notice will contain the effective date on the first page.

Patient Rights

Right to Request Restrictions	You have the right to request restrictions on certain uses and disclosures of protected health information about you. However, we are not required to agree to a restriction you request.
Right to Receive Confidential Communications	You have the right to request that we communicate with you about health matters in a certain way or at a certain location. For example, you may ask that we contact you at home rather than work.
Right to Inspect and Copy	You have the right to inspect and obtain a copy of protected health information about you that is used to make decisions about your care, for as long as we maintain the information.
Right to Amend	You have the right to request an amendment of protected health information about you that you believe is incorrect or incomplete, for as long as we maintain this information.
Right to an Accounting of Disclosures	You have the right to request an accounting of certain disclosures we have made of protected health information about you.
Right to a Paper Copy	You have the right to obtain a paper copy of this notice from us, even if you have agreed to receive this notice electronically.
Right to File a Complaint	If you believe your privacy rights have been violated, you may file a complaint with us or with the Secretary of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. You will not be penalized for filing a complaint.

Uses and Disclosures of Protected Health Information

Some uses and disclosures of your Protected Health Information (PHI) are made routinely to carry out treatment, payment, and health care operations. Other uses and disclosures require your written authorization, and any uses and disclosures not described in this notice will be made only with your written authorization.

Requirement for Written Authorization

Most uses and disclosures of psychotherapy notes (where applicable), uses and disclosures of PHI for marketing purposes, and disclosures that constitute a sale of PHI require your written authorization. Where we have obtained your authorization to use or disclose PHI about you, you may revoke that authorization in writing, at any time. If you revoke your authorization, we will no longer use or disclose PHI about you for the reasons covered by your written authorization, except to the extent that we have already relied on that authorization.

Marketing

We will not use or disclose your PHI for marketing purposes without your written authorization.

Sale of Protected Health Information

We will not sell your PHI without your written authorization.

Note: this two-page notice reflects the older, 2014-revised version of our practice's privacy notice. The current version, revised 1/8/2020, is available as a separate document.
